大學檔案

The Library is pleased to announce the setting up of The Education University of Hong Kong Archives (“University Archives” or “EdUHK Archives” in short). With start-up funding provided by the University’s Central Reserve and inaugurated in August 2016, the University Archives is a new library collection which aims to support research and education by preserving past records of the University, and to document the life of the University and its important role in the history of Hong Kong. The University Archives will therefore collect records in paper, electronic and audio-visual formats of EdUHK, HKIEd and the five preceding institutions, i.e. Northcote College of Education, Grantham College of Education, Sir Robert Black College of Education, The Hong Kong Technical Teachers’ College and The Institute of Language in Education.

The Library welcomes contributions of relevant records from any office, unit and individual to the University Archives. The Library’s Archives Team will also contact individual offices and units of the University on the collection of official records. Further details on the collection scope as well as access to the University Archives can be found at: www.lib.eduhk.hk/info/collections/archives.html.

For further enquiries, please contact Ms Michelle Yiu at 2948 7418 or e-mail to libarchives@edu.hk.
